

A Line in the Sands

Dear Readers—

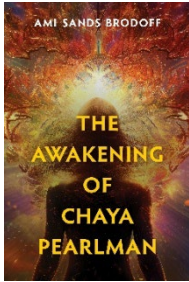

I'm so happy to share with you that I'll be launching a newsletter, A Line in the Sands. My newsletter will include personal writing and book news: I have a novel forthcoming in Spring, 2027, The Awakening of Chaya Pearlman, which I'm so excited about, due out with the outstanding Guernica Editions. Many readings, panels, appearances and events will be happening, so please stay tuned! A Line in the Sands will also chat about what I'm reading, writing, thinking, feeling and doing. My focus will be on literary and the arts, but you may find forays into family, ideas, as well as musings on language and culture. I do believe that books and the arts can help to heal our broken world.

I hope you will join me here. I can't wait to include you!

Warmly,

-Ami
